Travel Salem Hires New Public Relations Manager

SALEM, ORE. — Travel Salem is pleased to announce Jenie Skoy as the Association's new PR Manager. Jenie has a wealth of experience as a former magazine editor, newspaper reporter and freelance food and travel writer. Jen grew up in Idaho and worked for more than a dozen years as a professional writer based in Salt Lake City, Utah.

Jenie holds a degree from Utah State University in English literature with a minor in print journalism. She's written for publications such as Sunset, USA Today, Fodor's travel guides, Dining Out, Utah Style and Design, Digital iQ magazine, Ancestry, Park City magazine, the Wasatch Journal and many others.

Jenie has also worked as a freelance PR writer, writing for clients as diverse as Microsoft and Beehive Cheese Company. She also worked as the editor of Growing Edge magazine in Corvallis, the associate editor of Utah Business and Digital iQ magazines in Salt Lake City, Utah, as well as a special sections editor at the Register Guard in Eugene.

Jenie is an avid food blogger and photographer and enjoys doing anything in the wilderness including rock climbing, hiking, fly-fishing and camping. She loves to cycle in Minto Brown Island Park, and dine in Salem's downtown restaurants.

Jenie claims that her true gift as Travel Salem's public relations manager is her tenacity at promoting Salem and Marion and Polk counties' rich destination attractions and activities to local and national media.
